PENINSULA PLAYGOER

BY DOROTHY NICHOLS

Pale Alto's Light Opera production at the Community Theater of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Pirates of Penzance, or the Slave of Duty", is having a two-week run this and the next night except Sunday. It is a strenuous life for the cast, who have other things to do in the daytime, but by the second week they should be old experienced performers.

San Carlos Community Theater opens tonight in "Blithe Spirit", which is repeated Friday and Saturday of this week. Julio Francescutti, the director, when this went to press, was a haunted man. The Community Players produce in the City Hall auditorium, and their struggle to rehearse is as bad as that of the Stanford actors in Memorial Hall. Every organization in town uses the City Hall auditorium for its meetings. The Players are supposed to have one night a week, but the final mechanical effects, when the spirits of the two wives wreck the house, need more than that to get the actors' nerves in shape.

Marie Francescutti, the director's wife, is doing a little haunting of her own, as she plays Elvira, the jealous ghost. The one responsible for table-moving and odd goings on at the seance, the memorable Mme. Arcati, will be acted by Deborah Kiviah who is in the speech and drama department at Sequoia High School. This will be her first appearance with the San Carlos Players.

William O'Meara is the haunted husband, Janet Tuffli his second wife, and William Daniels and Florence Reid complete the cast. Daniels doubles as stage designer.

Millbrae's annual Christmas production will have two performances on Sunday evening, Dec. 21, at 6:30 and 8:30. This is a traditional Nativity Play but the staging each year is varied, and the director, Ralph Schramm has written a new prologue. Admission is free, but reservations may be made by telephoning Millbrae 2553.

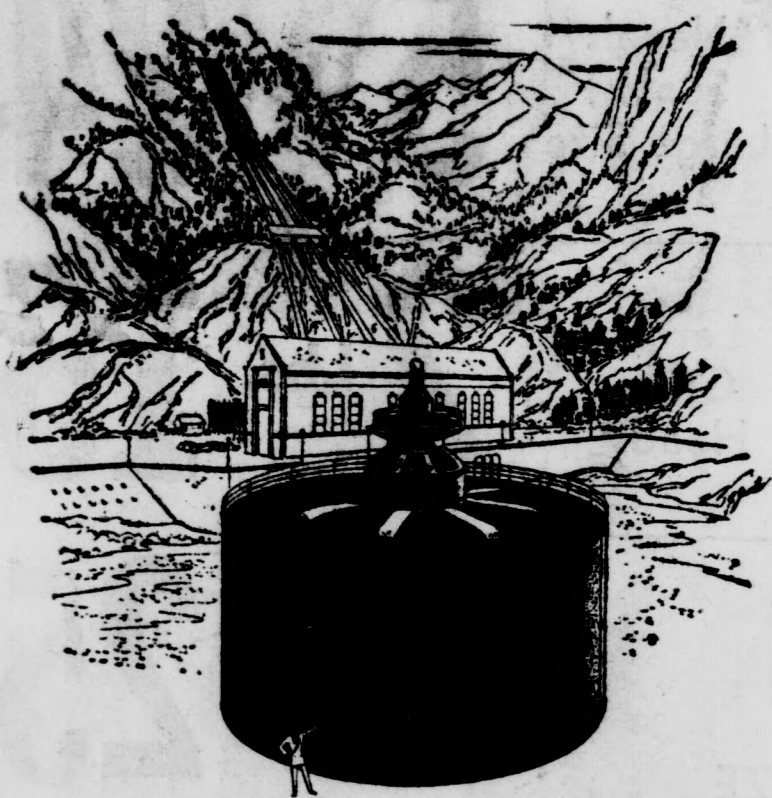

Millbrae found that a program of one-acts does not draw as well as a single play, but the response to "The Devil and Daniel Webster" was enthusiastic.

San Jose State College is giving a studio performance of Euripides' "Alceste", which is already sold out, this week Saturday and Sunday evenings. It is by the advanced acting class with Joanne Eliason as the faithful wife and John Calderwood as Admetus.

The college's "Rosmersholm" last week was one of those miraculous productions where student actors bring a difficult classic to life with unity of mood, sustained character, and inner understanding.

This is not an unusual miracle for San Jose, where the distinguishing characteristic is group playing, the small parts done with as much care as the large, attention never focussed on individuals but on the play. What results is not submergence of the individual, but unusually good performances by all the cast.

Stella Pinoris and Jackson Young had certain mannerisms that reminded you they are young; otherwise you forgot entirely that these were not mature characters in the grip of tremendous forces. These two and John Calderwood sustained the main burden of the play very ably: Young's suffering mask-like face; Stella Pinoris subtly and restraint; Calderwood's vigor as the unhappy conservative, set each other off. They held the slow pace and pauses like veterans. James Forster had a remarkable scene as the radical, (radical within limits), and Clark Kirkpatrick was the odd, intellectual vagabond. They are all fascinatingly complex characters. I never fell in love so completely with a housekeeper as with Evelyn McCurdy's bright-eyed, observant little woman. The play is extraordinary. Ibsen lives because he translated his social problem into terms of living persons, and in the first three acts he strips motive after motive from these people, who become as strange as do all those you know well.

THE LIFE STORY OF GENERATOR 0-63000

You cannot buy a powerhouse by catalog order. You must have it built to specifications right from the ground up. Take the giant electric generators for example—they take months and years to build and assemble part by part. Here is the life story of generator 0-63000 long on order.

During the later part of 1949 it will be set in place in the new $35,400,000 Rock Creek Powerhouse this Company is building on the North Fork of the Feather River in Plumas County. It will then be "tuned up" like a grand piano along with an identical unit dedicated to a life of spinning out 169,000 additional electric horsepower for Northern and Central California.

Generator 0-63000 will be more than two years old before it goes to work producing power. Factory fabrication time will take 21 months. Upon arrival at the Rock Creek Powerhouse, five months will be required for re-assembly and run-in tests.

Generator 0-63000 is one of fourteen new generating units this Company is now installing for new and enlarged hydro and steam electric powerhouses that are part of our present $350,000,000 construction program.

Vital Statistics About Generator 0-63000
Weight 875,000 pounds
Width 30 feet in diameter
Height 53 feet from stator head to turbine wheel
Cost $617,145

Palo Alto Area Stricken By Serious Cat Disease

An epizootic among cats of the Palo Alto vicinity highly contagious and 98 per cent fatal, was reported Tuesday by G. Dalmadge, humane society superintendent and city poundmaster.

The disease, which affects only cats, is panleucopenia, usually designated as gastro-enteritis, and known to veterinarians as "G.E." It has been prevalent among the feline population in the area for the past two weeks, and a number of valuable pets have died. At one veterinary hospital alone — some 10 to 15 cats have been treated.

The only preventives Dalmadge or Dr. S. M. Smith, veterinarian who does much of the city's work, could suggest are isolation and inoculation against the disease. The vaccine is helpful according to Dalmadge, but not wholly proof against contagion.

Symptoms, it is explained, are similar to poisoning and are often mistaken for it. The onset is very rapid, and few cats which are attacked by the disease live beyond the fourth day. The cat appears listless and sits looking at its water pan without attempting to drink. Vomiting and high fever follow almost immediately, and loss of weight is almost immediately apparent. It usually attacks young cats, but older animals are apt to be carriers of the disease.

"G.E." flares up every few years, Dalmadge explained Tuesday. The last time it reached serious proportions was shortly before the war. There are always a few cases, for cats are most susceptible. The disease never attacks human beings, dogs or other animals.

Evidence of Roughing Claimed in Glendale 'American Legion' Raid on Meeting

GLENDAL (AP) — The prosecution has offered testimony that Hugh Hardyman was shaken "severely" by one of 20 men, wearing American Legion caps, who are charged with disrupting a Democratic club meeting at Hardyman's home last Nov. 14.

Victor Nulte, a salesman who attended the meeting of the Crescenta-Canada Club at Hardyman's home, said one of the 20 started reading a statement telling the club to disband its meeting. "Young Burkenheimer (B. C. Burkenheimer, another defendant and publisher of the Glendale-News-Press) said 'proceed as planned'."
